

Conditions of use of friseurfinder.net

for the Internet services within the system of "friseurfinder.net"

1. By using this service you accept the conditions of use.
2. These conditions of use and disclaimers of liability are also applicable as part of all Internet services of Karl Telle (limited liability, in the following called "portal owner") from which you have been referred to this page.
3. On principle, friseurfinder.net (in the following called "portal") is available to hair dresser owners (in the following called "operator") well as to visitors free of charge. The portal owner reserves the right to ban operators or visitors from the system without giving reasons and without prior announcements and to delete or modify contents. This applies in particular to illegal or immoral contents.
4. The portal owner strives towards the best possible functionality of its service, however, is not liable for damages arisen or income lost on account of defects, failures or discontinuation of the system.
5. Contents or system components must not be published elsewhere without the consent of the portal owner.
6. An operator that does not wish to be presented on the portal will be deleted by the editors. In this case, please send a communication using the contact form.
7. The portal attempts to provide content in the best possible quality and to constantly improve the contents and information offered through a large number of instruments and measures. No responsibility, however, is accepted for the accuracy of the information. The majority of the information directly comes from operators and visitors. The portal owner is not liable for the accuracy, completeness and timeliness of the information published (texts, data, prices, pictures, etc.). No responsibility is accepted for contents of linked Web sites (links to external pages).
8. All users of the system (operators as well as visitors) accept that all contents and information (texts, data, pictures, etc.) entered or confirmed by them may be freely published on the Internet and in printed form. The contents may in particular be shown not only on the portal, but on other sites as well (e.g. in the context of content sharing). The users guarantee to be the holders of all rights to the contents entered and to grant the portal owner a right to use these contents without restriction in terms of material, space and time. By allocating (uploading) pictures or other data, the user explicitly confirms that this does not infringe on third parties' rights and does not infringe on law. Further the user declares that he has the required copyrights/moral rights for the provision at his disposal, and holds our business and its members indemnified against loss and lawsuits.
9. The users guarantee that the contents entered by them are not confidential and are not in breach of applicable law. The portal owner reserves the right – as far as it seems necessary or useful for legal reasons – to completely or partly delete or modify contents of the authors without announcing this to the users, but without prejudice to the copyright.

10. Essential parts of the contents of this system are not administered by the editors, but e.g. by operators or visitors. Illegal or objectionable contents may be reported to the editors quickly and easily through a report system integrated in the system and will be deleted as quickly as possible after examination by the editors. In this context, use the appropriate contact forms. A complete and immediate examination of all contents (which are partly constantly changing), however, is not possible. The respective authors themselves are responsible for the legality of the contents. The publication of information through the portal owner and/or the calling of such information by the user do not constitute a binding information or advice. The users agree to use these contents at their own risk. The same is valid for the parts of the system that may be edited by anybody, this is public communication.
11. The users are not allowed to collect or publish other user's personal data or information.
12. The contact forms available in the system must only be used for the purpose respectively intended (e.g. inquiry to an operator). The use of these forms for sending advertising messages or spam mails is forbidden.
13. To the extent permissible by law, the portal owner is not liable for damages caused by viruses or other data organisations in the contents presented on the web sites.
14. The law of the Republic of Germany is applicable unless any internationally binding legal dispositions conflict with it. Place of jurisdiction is the registered office of the portal owner. These conditions will also be valid in case the web sites are used outside the European Union or outside of Germany regardless of the user's nationality.
15. The portal owner reserves the right to modify these conditions at any time.
16. If any provisions of these conditions of use do not comply with the applicable law, the content and the validity of the other provisions will remain unaffected by this and the invalid provision shall be considered to be replaced by such a legally valid provision coming nearest to the economic purpose intended by the invalid provision and/or the parties.
17. Link to data safety information

Download terms and conditions